AMERICAN DISPATCHES

Decoration Day—Memorial Services at New York—The Cronin Murder.

Cyclone in Kansas—Death on the Rail—Behring Sea Question.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Chicago, May 30.—The Globe this morning says: It can no longer be disguised that the police as well as Cronin's friends are convinced that Cronin came to his death as a result of a conspiracy involving a number of prominent Irish-Americans, among whom is A. Sullivan, a well known Chicago attorney. It was known that Cronin had made serious charges against the lawyer and at least one of his colleagues, of the Clan-Na-Gael triumvirate, in connection with the misappropriation of Irish Nationalist funds. The defalcation charged, it is said, exceeded $80,000, and the allegations were to have been heard at Philadelphia this year.

DECORATION DAY.

New York, May 30.—Dispatches from various points indicate that to-day, Decoration Day, is being universally observed as a holiday with military parades and exercises appropriate to the occasion; though at many places as well as here, rain is interfering somewhat with the celebration.

DEADLY CYCLONE.

Emporia, Kan., May 29.—A cyclone has just passed over the entire country, doing great damage to crops and buildings. Four fatalities are reported.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 29.—George H. Stevens, 50 years of age, while intoxicated boarded a train near here last night. He was ejected and this morning was found dead on the railroad track horribly mangled.

TERRIBLE VOYAGE.

San Francisco, May 30—The ship Portland, Lloyds, coal laden from Baltimore, which has been considerably overdue, arrived in port this morning. Her delay was due to bad weather. Five men were lost during the voyage.

IN A NUTSHELL.

San Francisco, May 30.—The Chronicle says editorially this morning: "Nobody who is of sound mind wants war about seals in Behring Sea, and the only apparent danger is that some officer in command of a war vessel, British or American, may misinterpret or exceed his instructions; but even in that event there would be no war, so long as the two nations preserved their temper and did not discover an insult or indignity where none was intended."

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Picche, Nev., May 30.—At 11 o'clock this morning a piece of pine wood, four inches square and fifteen feet long, which had just been put in place as a portion of the guards of the buckboard cage, to be used in the pump compartment of the Raymond & Ely Mine, became detached and fell ten feet, to where Jack O'Neill stood on a two-inch plank. O'Neill fell 18 feet. Death was instantaneous.

THE HAYTIAN SITUATION.

New York, May 30.—Admiral Gherardi, of the U. S. corvette Galena, who has just arrived here says in relation to the situation in Hayti: "I feel sure that the trouble on the island will be brought to a speedy termination. The advantage at present rests with Hippolyte and the forces of the north. When we first arrived in Hayti, Hippolyte's men were holding a very small portion of the northern part of the republic, but by a succession of movements have gained control of all the northern half and have made serious inroads in the south. When we left they were certainly within 25 leagues of the capital, Port au Prince, and rumor has placed them even nearer than this."

A BLOW AT CALVINISM.

San Fancisco, May 27.—A special from New York says: In Plymouth Church yesterday Dr. Lyman Abbott delivered the most notable sermon that his congregation has heard since the death of Henry Ward Beecher. That part of the Presbyterian creed in which it is declared that God has foreordained a certain part of the human race to eternal life and the rest to eternal destruction was read by Dr. Abbott, and then his morning sermon, Dr. Abbott began with a statement of the Calvinistic system, which, he said, regards the whole human family as one body doomed to punishment for the sin of its progenitors. The modern system, Dr. Abbott could give it no better name, took the opposite idea. Every man is responsible for his own sins alone.

Dr. Abbott proceeded still further in the opposite direction from the Calvinistic faith. He held that God's mercy was not limited by race; it was for one race as much as for another. It is not limited by color, and under this head the clergyman referred to the discussion of the color line in the Presbyterian general assembly, and said that the same subject would be introduced in the Congregational association, shortly to meet at Saratoga. "Neither is God's mercy subject to any limit of time," said Dr. Abbott.

He found nothing in the bible to lead him to believe that the offer of Divine mercy was limited to man's lifetime. If he had found that doctrine in the Gospel, it could have been no Gospel to him. "If in the far recesses of eternity some wretched beings have forgotten God, it will be because God's mercy is not wide open."

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 30.—The weather is gloomy with occasional light rain early in the day. A majority of the flags displayed from all buildings and many private buildings waved from the top of the staffs and made it seem like a celebration of some joyful event. Then the bands did not play funeral dirges as they passed along the streets from their rendezvous to the location for forming the line. The presence of President Harrison added great interest to the occasion, and in the excitement to pay all honor to the Chief Magistrate, it seemed as if the memorial part had been forgotten. The President had breakfast at the residence of Joseph F. Knapp and chatted pleasantly with the host and hostess, Secretary Tracey, Mayor Chapin and others. After the meal he repaired to the parlor and for upwards of two hours held a reception. Hosts of prominent citizens, generals, colonels, naval officers, heads of the Grand Army organization, shook hands with him. Various organizations participating in the parade were all at their respective places of rendezvous at 10 o'clock. At 10:20 the line moved. It is estimated there were between 11,000 and 12,000 men in line. As the head of the column reached the reviewing stand at Millbough Avenue and Washington park, it formed to left and dressed back to the curb. When the signal was given the President entered a carriage in company with Secretary Tracy, and from left to right of the line as he moved over the route he received a grand ovation from the spectators who lined the sidewalk and doorsteps and filled the windows of houses. The organizations saluted and bands played "Hail to the Chief." The President gracefully acknowledged the flattering recognition accorded to him. Upon taking his place on the reviewing stand the organization wheeled in column and resumed the march, passing through several streets to the Flat Bush Avenue where the parade was dismissed. Various divisions of the Grand Army assigned to the cemeteries then repaired to their respective destinations. The cemeteries which were visited were Greenwood, Cypress Hills, Evergreen, Holy Cross and Flatbush where little mounds which mark the places where beloved comrades rest in peace were transformed into flower beds, and eloquent orations were delivered in which tributes were paid to the memories of heroes for their valor and loyalty.

MR. BARNARD AND THE HIGH TARIFF.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Twice have you referred to my utterances in the House of Commons, when in order to strengthen the case I was presenting I attempted to explain that what I demanded was consistent with what I believed to be the objects of the National Policy.

In the first instance, without waiting to see what I actually had said, you honored me with a short article with the apparent object of conveying the impression that I had made a speech in favor of the National Policy, as the following from THE TIMES of the 27th of April will show: "Mr. Barnard, M. P., has spoken in the Commons in favor of the National Policy." This assertion you made without knowing what I had said. If you had not been too eager to jump at a conclusion you would have found that in demanding that quartz mining and reducing machinery should for a short period be placed on the free list I stated that I was a firm believer in the National policy, but considered that the object of that policy was intended to assist the development of our great natural resources as well as to foster our different manufacturing industries, and upon that ground I asked for the admission free of duty of machinery required to work our mines. Surely, there was no such inconsistency in thus explaining what I believed to be the principles of the National Policy as to warrant you in classing my attitude as "like that of a drunken man advocating the principles of temperance."

You might at least have waited to read what I had stated before pronouncing judgment as you did when you continued thus: "What the admission of mining machinery free of duty has to do with the so-called National Policy of Canada he did not inform us." Without waiting to ascertain whether I did or did not inform the House, you made the foregoing allegation, for a correct report of my remarks did not reach Victoria until five or six days after you criticised them.

I was particular in explaining to the House that in the past British Columbia had not benefitted directly from the operations of the National Policy, but admitted that indirectly it had, for a revenue had been thereby created which enabled Canada to build and complete the Canadian Pacific Railway in an incredibly short space of time, and that as British Columbia was destined to become a manufacturing province the time would be when the direct benefits conferred on struggling industries by the working of the National Policy would be appreciated.

I had not intended referring to your criticisms passed six days before you were in a position to know what I had said on this subject if you had not again last evening, in an article condemning the National Policy, concluded as follows: "Notwithstanding that the name and practice were advocated by Mr. Barnard, M. P.," showing that you are still under the impression that I had made it my special duty to rise in the House of Commons for the sole purpose of praising the National Policy, whereas I only incidentally and as an argument in favor of the request I was making, referred to it. I have no objection to admitting that in the interest of the Dominion as a whole, I am a strong believer in the National Policy, as are seven-tenths of the people of Canada, including now even the leaders of your own (the Liberal) party, who dare not raise that issue again after the verdict of the people at the last general elections; but I do decidedly object to being misrepresented, and to having any erroneous impressions as to what I did or did not say in the House circulated.

It may not be inopportune to refer also to another article of yours in last night's issue under the heading of "The Tariff," wherein you take all the representatives from British Columbia to task for not moving in the tariff question. Will you be good enough to explain your meaning, and at some early date point out what particular alterations you desire to the tariff?

It is somewhat surprising to find among the Liberal organs one still remaining to fight the National Policy and the present tariff. The leaders of your party and the organs in the eastern provinces have abandoned that course, and now concede the necessity of maintaining a high rate of duty, in fact in some instances demanding an increase.

Yours truly, FRANK S. BARNARD.

Victoria, 29th May.

THE BEHRING SEA DIFFICULTY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—In the present closely balanced condition of American political parties, the Republicans evidently consider it necessary, for future favors, to signalize their tenure of office by a move of far-reaching magnitude; and there can be little doubt, I think, that their intention is, by hook or by crook, to annex Canada. A remarkable series of articles have been published recently in the North American Review by prominent Republicans showing, first, the desirability of the Canadian Provinces, (lands overflowing with milk and honey, coal, iron and lumber, etc.); secondly, that to appropriate them with or without the consent of the majority of the inhabitants would be no breach of morality, because, thirdly, according to no less an authority than Ben Butler, the military obstacles would be very slim. His carpet-baggers are already on the qui vive for fresh spoils.

Now, I believe the majority of our cousins over the border are better than certain of their ruling representatives, and that they would oppose anything like force in regard to hastening whatever spontaneous immense towards union may exist in this great but as yet juvenile country. But let our sealers carry out their bellicose intentions and resist to the effusion of blood of one officer of the United States in fulfilling his instructions, and you will see a mighty change in the people of the United States. That is the very game the astute and unscrupulous Jim Blaine is playing, and he would then, as now he his not, be backed by a united people, with Canada for the unwilling stake.

Let us still play a waiting game, confident that with right on our side we shall hold reckless and scheming politicians in check not only by British ironclads but by even more desirable means, the public opinion of their own fellow-citizens. C. F. N.

Victoria, May 30.

The 15-year-old girl, missing in Philadelphia for several days, was found after a long search in Chinatown. She said she tried to escape. Meantime she had been married to a Chinese storekeeper. Relatives took the girl away and the Chinaman threatens to get her back.

THE SAMOAN TREATY.

Complete German Back Down—O'Connor Before the Commission.

By Postal Telegraph.]

Berlin, May 30.—The provisions of the treaty concluded at the Samoan conference are substantially as follows: The government of Samoa is to be exclusively native in its composition, and none of the treaty powers will have any voice in the local government of Apia, further than that granted them in the general control of the Samoan islands.

The leading clause of the treaty insures the absolute autonomy of the Samoan islands, guaranteeing to natives not only predominating influence in every governmental body, but restricting the powers from representation upon Samoan council or ministry.

The treaty further provides for a sort of advisory council to consult with the native King whenever necessary.

In view of the large commercial interests of the United States and Germany, each of these countries will be allowed a full-fledged member, but England's representative will act only in the character of arbiter or umpire when the other ministers fail to agree.

A land court or commission is provided by the treaty, whose business it will be to examine into titles of Samoan real estate and settle many disputes and claims that foreigners have been settling up in Samoa, and generally to set at rest all questions as to the ownership of land.

The islands are to be governed by a native king and vice-king elected by the Samoans. These two officials, together with the chiefs of Samoan families or clans, will compose the upper house of the native legislature. The upper house is styled the Talmus; the lower house or fai pule is to be made up of Samoans chosen by the people upon a basis of one representative for every two thousand people.

An outline of a tariff schedule is also embraced in the treaty. Its terms are general and provide for changes after the expiration of certain periods.

Provisions of the several treaties now in existence between the Powers and Samoa as to coaling stations set apart upon the island are re-enacted in this treaty, and a separate station is allotted to each power. Each government shall also be at liberty to hoist its flag on the ground where the station buildings will be erected, but the sovereignty of the government of Samoa over harbors shall not in any way be abridged or prejudiced thereby.

The German demand for a large indemnity from the Samoans, for destruction of German lives and property, is a sum which would have impoverished the Samoans for years to come, was withdrawn, and the treaty provides in lieu of the payment of a nominal sum only.

O'CONNOR TESTIFIES.

London, May 30—Arthur O'Connor, M. P. for East Donegal, testified before the Parnell Commission to-day. Among other statements he said he heard President Harrison, in a speech delivered at Indianapolis, say: "Every honest man and lover of liberty would rather be in the company of William O'Brien in Tullamore jail, than be entertained by the Viceroy of Ireland at Dublin Castle." O'Connor testified when he took the office of Secretary of the National League he found many of the organization's books in a much fragmentary condition and so far in arrears that it was impossible to do anything with them. Witness did not know whether the books of the league which the Government seized, when Forster was Chief Secretary for Ireland, had been destroyed or not. Presiding Justice Hannon ordered that the enquiry be made and that it be ascertained if the books were in existence.

PUBLISHER'S TROUBLES.

London, May 30—Henry Vizetelly, publisher, has been sentenced to three months for selling Zola's works, though revised and expurgated since he was fined for a similar offence.

A PATRIOTIC LETTER.

Geo. Olds, of the C. P. R., in Reply to Secretary Morrow's Invitation.

The following letter has been received by Mr. D. W. Morrow, Secretary of the Celebration Committee:—

MONTREAL, May 24th, 1889.

D. W. Morrow, Esquire, Hon. Secretary Celebration Committee:

DEAR SIR,—I found your thoughtful and kind invitation to join you and your fellow townsmen in celebrating the Queen's Birthday on my return from the west. My telegram of this date will have informed you of my regrets, I now desire to tender my thanks to yourself and Mayor Grant for your invitation. It is the first of the kind I have received since my return to the old flag, after an absence of twenty-five years in the United States, where I went an Englishman, and came back in full possession of all my rights and claims to the title of an Englishman. Much as I admire the States, and I have reason to be grateful to many of their best citizens, whom I respect, yet I never could make up my mind to forswear my allegiance to Her Most Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, and the glorious old flag that has braved so many storms.

I have devoted twenty-five of my best years in assisting in the growth and development of the Western States. I thought I saw a good chance in doing something in the same direction for my fellow-countrymen in Canada, and I propose to devote the remainder of my active days to this end, for I believe in Canada. I believe it has the most glorious future before it of any country on the globe, if Canadians are but true to themselves.

With all the resources and advantages possessed by our Dominion within the boundary there is nothing there that is essential to life and happiness that Canadians do not possess, or may possess, if they will pull together for their common good. Permit me to hope that our good friends in Victoria will not be behind others in this. With the kindest wishes for the prosperity of Victoria and its people, believe me to be

Very truly yours,
GEO. OLDS.

GENEROUS CANUCKS.

The Tacoma Bicycle Club is Very Hospitably Treated.

The Tacoma Globe of Monday last contains the following:

The members of the Tacoma Bicycle club returned from a four days' trip to Victoria yesterday evening and report that their stay in the city during the two days' celebration of the Queen's birthday was one continued round of pleasure.

The city was crowded with people from all parts of the province and the Sound, the celebration consequently being the largest from this side, and certainly attracted the most attention, owing to the presence of the bicycle club.

The club was received by members of the Island Wanderers' Cycling club and Chief Deasy, of the Victoria fire department, who escorted them to the Burnes hotel, where everything had been prepared for their reception.

On behalf of the Tacoma Bicycle Club I wish to say that the treatment received by us at the hands of Mayor Grant, Messrs. Whittaker, Lorimer and Mitchell, Chief Deasy, Mine Host Burnes and his charming family, Messrs. Scott, Gibbons, Jones and other members of the Island Wanderers Cycling Club, and in fact by all the citizens of Victoria, was impossible to improve upon.

We landed in Victoria total strangers with no other expectations than to compete in the bicycle race and see the sights. But immediately upon our arrival we were taken in hand by the chief citizens of the city and every effort was made to enhance our enjoyment. We were presented with tickets to the ball, were dined at the clubs, a gold medal was gotten up specially for us to compete for. We were not allowed to settle our hotel bills and were presented with $100 as a testimonial of good will. Nearly every one we met expressed their intention of coming to Tacoma on the Fourth.

If we are going to have a celebration here on the Fourth it should be on an extensive scale and no time should be lost in making preparations for it.

If our assistance will be accepted the Tacoma Bicycle Club will, to a man, do all in their power to make it a success.

EDGAR A. MCCOY,
Second Lieutenant.

NEWS OF THE WIRES.

Condensed Items of Foreign News and Elsewhere.

A frightful hurricane has prevailed on the east coast of Australia for several days. A number of lives have been lost. Land slides have been frequent and railroads have been forced to suspend business. The rainfall has exceeded any previous record.

The strike at Zerabing, Belgium, is rapidly spreading and the attitude of the miners throughout the district is menacing.

There were seven more evictions at Luggacurran yesterday. The remaining ejectments have been postponed until Friday.

A disastrous fire has swept the town of Padhajoe, in Austrian Galicia. Sixty houses, a church and a synagogue have been destroyed, and a large number of lives lost. Twelve bodies have been taken from the ruins and workmen are excavating as rapidly as possible to reach others known to be buried.

Unionists yesterday presented a petition asking for the abolition of the office of viceroy of Ireland, and merging its duties into those of chief secretary. The premier replied he would faithfully consider the requests.

In accordance with the positive orders of the Pope, the papal household will be strictly confined within the limits of the Vatican on the occasion of the unveiling of the monument to Giordano Bruno, on June 9th. Such measures have not been resorted to by the head of the Roman Catholic Church since 1870.

The London Times' Berlin correspondent reports that the American commissioners to the Samoan conference had a fight for the assertion of the principle for which they contended, and that the convention when concluded will show that their labors have not been without a measure of success.

The railway companies at San Francisco have refused to make any reduction in rates to teachers attending the National Education Association, which meets in Louisville, Ky., next month.

The American ship Portland, Lloyds, is 173 days out from Baltimore and overdue at San Francisco.

Admiral Gherhardi, who has arrived at New York from Hayti on the United States steamer Galena, says it is true that Hyppolyte is rapidly gaining the advantage over Legitime.

The Connecticut Senate yesterday passed the House bill forbidding railroads from issuing free passes to members of the Legislature, and ordering the state comptroller to furnish the necessary tickets.

The jury investigating the death of Mind Reader Bishop, yesterday rendered a verdict that Bishop died of coma, and that although Drs Irvin, Ferguson and Hunie acted in good faith respecting the autopsy, they were over-zealous and hasty in the matter. The coroner thereupon discharged the three doctors, who had been under bail.

CHEMAINUS NEWS.

Thunderstorm—New Hotels—Amusing Incident.

From the Courier.]

A terrific thunderstorm burst over Chemainus yesterday morning, doing, we fear, considerable damage to crops in the neighborhood. The area affected by the storm was extremely limited. Persons standing in one field where there was no rain at all could see sheets of water deluging another clearing on the other side of the fence. No damage, other than to crops was done so far as is known at present.

Two fine new hotels are in process of construction at Lewisville, about half a mile from Chemainus wharf. One is being built for Mr. Sam Gray, the other for Mr. Lewis.

An amusing incident occurred the other evening on the hotel verandah, whilst a discussion—political we believe—was going on. Two of the guests who took opposite views as to the manner in which affairs of State ought to be managed, not being able to settle matters amicably, finally agreed to "fight it out," British fashion, on American soil July 4th. A settlement by the way which "mine host" seem to think far preferable to a "set to" then and there.

T. D. Conway has gone to Seattle to splice the sub-marine cable. Mr. Conway holds the unique position, we believe, of being the only man on, or off the Sound, for many a long mile, who can do this particular work. He will return in a few days, and start out with a party of men to superintend the building of a telegraph line to Alberni.

We understand that the Lumber and Manufacturing Company have let a contract for three hundred piles, with which they intend to build a wharf to be used by foreign shipping.

THE WARSHIPS' PICNIC!

A Kind of Pleasure Trip to North With Facilities for Business.

Sir John Macdonald having been interviewed yesterday in regard to the Behring Sea business, said, respecting indemnity to the owners of seized sealers: "Lord Salisbury has been doing nothing but demanding redress ever since the Canadian Government made representations to the Home Government, and the Imperial Government took immediate action. Of course if the United States Government refuses to respect the law of nations there are only three courses open for us, we must have war, back down, or have arbitration. My own opinion is that if the United States Government do not acknowledge themselves in the wrong the matter will be referred to arbitration. I know what the opinion of the Cleveland Government was, and the law of nations has not altered since the change of government."

The premier also said that he did not believe the British or American Governments had any hostile intentions. The ships were going for a cruise and he did not believe any seizures would be made this year.

TO THE TIMES ONLY.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell Censured by his Brother Orangemen.

Special to THE TIMES.]

Montreal, May 30.—Sir John was shown a dispatch from Victoria this morning about British war ships for Behring Sea, and pooh-poohed the whole affair. He said there was no possibility of trouble.

CREW MISSING.

Kingston, May 30.—The barge with the Bavaria's crew is missing. The barge is ashore but not a trace of her occupants.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION.

Montreal, May 30.—A convention of Conservatives of the province to-day was attended by nearly five thousand, and was the largest gathering of politicians ever seen in Montreal. The ministers and all the leading local politicians were present and laid down a programme for the coming campaign.

A banquet to Hon. L. O. Taillon, leader of the opposition in the legislature, was held in Victoria Rink, and there were nearly a thousand people seated at the table.

PROMPT WORK.

Senator Ryan was buried this morning and it was at once announced that Edward Murphy had been appointed in his place.

A STORMY SESSION.

Goderich, May 30—The Grand Orange Lodge session met at two o'clock and great interest was awakened as to the result of the discussion on the Jesuits' Estates Act, and the vote in the Dominion House were questions before the meeting. During the afternoon a stormy time was had in the Grand Lodge on various aspects of the subject, and at six o'clock, as no sign of closing the debate was apparent, the session adjourned.

FROM OTTAWA.

Bowell Censured by Brother Orangemen—Senator Ryan's Successor

Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, May 30.—Edward Murphy, a merchant of Montreal, has been appointed to the Senate in the place of Ryan, deceased. This leaves four vacancies to fill the places of Plumb, Ferguson and Ferries, deceased, and Schultz, resigned, to accept the Lieutenant Governorship of Manitoba.

At a meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge, Mackenzie Bowell and other Orangemen who voted for the Jesuits Estates Bill were censured.

SPORTING NEWS.

Baseball—Trappings for a Race Horse—A Monster Purse.

The Port Townsend baseball club intend making a trip to the Sound in a few days, with the intention of playing the Seattle and Tacoma nines. If talking will win the games, betting will be two to one in favor of the Townsends.

COSTLY TRAPPINGS.

The trappings purchased by the city of Spokane, for the horse Spokane, are very handsome. Over $200 worth of silver was used in ornamenting the bridle, which is said to be the handsomest ever manufactured in America.

A MONSTER STAKE.

The Fresno (California) Jockey Club has offered a $20,000 purse for a race of two miles and a half and repeat. Speaking of it the California Racing World says: "The stockholders of the Fresno Fair Grounds Association held a meeting a few days ago, when all arrangements were perfected for the $20,000 race to take place in November next. The prize was distributed as follows: First horse, $15,000; second, $3,000; third, $2,000; entrance fee, ten per cent. The $20,000 is to be deposited in bank, the letter to acknowledge such deposit in a letter, which will be placed in the hands of Manager Baldwin, secretary of the association, who will start East on the 20th inst., in order to be in St. Louis about the 1st of June to be on hand at the races in that city. He will then visit Chicago, Louisville and all the leading cities, and confer with owners with a view of getting them to enter their horses for the $20,000 race."

THE RING.

San Francisco, May 30—A rumor prevails here that Joe Choynski and Jim Corbett, the well known heavy weights, between whom a grudge has existed since childhood, and who have recently signed articles to fight to a finish for $1,000 a side, are having it out at Laurel Grove, San Rafael, this morning.

O'CONNOR WINS.

Seattle, May 30—In the regatta here to-day O'Connor won easily by four boat lengths; Hamm, second; Peterson, third; Lee far in the rear of the third man. O'Connor played with the others almost over the whole course.

The Libel Suit.

In the Supreme Court this morning the libel suit of Robertson versus the Colonist was postponed until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on account of the illness of His Lordship Justice Gray. The case will be heard before Justice Crease and a special jury.

Two Sides of a Picture.

Of what use has been Washington's example of truthfulness when we find in a morning newspaper, immediately following a poetic tribute to the brave, good and wise soldier and statesman, the story of catching a 21 pound trout?—Boston Transcript.

Dr. Ormiston Coming.

Rev. Dr. Ormiston, the famous New York divine, who for many years occupied the pulpit of the Central Presbyterian church, Hamilton, Ont., will arrive in the city this week and preach in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and in the First Presbyterian in the evening. It would be a great treat if this powerful preacher and peerless lecturer could be induced to deliver one of his lectures while in the city.

The Willing Horse Act.

Hon. John Robson was in the city today on his way to New Westminster. The hon. gentleman is looking remarkably well considering the cares of state which rest on his shoulders. The willing horse always gets the burden, and so it is with our representative, for in addition to his duties as Provincial Secretary he carries those of President of the Council, Minister of Mines and Minister of Education.—Vancouver World.

In fact it is said that he carries the World on his shoulders.

A Hardened Criminal.

The prisoner, Healey, sentenced to imprisonment for six months for breaking away from the chain gang, is a hardened rascal, and deserves the heavy sentence imposed yesterday morning. He was serving a sentence for housebreaking when he made the attempt to escape. Healey was known in the penitentiary as [illegible] the name of O'Connor. He was the man who asked for an investigation into the conduct of the officials there and caused a great deal of trouble through the false charges laid against the officials.

TWO SCHOOL SYSTEMS.

There is a striking similarity between the educational systems of Australia and British Columbia, which differ considerably from that of Ontario or any of the other eastern provinces. Dr. GRANT, the eloquent President of Queen's College, who last year made a visit to the sister colony, has been lecturing in Toronto on "Australia and Canada viewed from an educational and political standpoint," and from a report of his lecture we gather the following information. As in our own Province where an autocratic Minister has full sway, the Minister of Education in Australia is an absolute ruler, because the system is completely one of centralization. He builds or repairs the school houses, hires, pays and dismisses the teachers, and assumes all control of the instruction imparted. The cost of education falls entirely upon the state and is equal to $20 for each pupil per year, the population in the rural districts being very sparse. In British Columbia the cost per pupil is much higher owing to a greater sparsity of population. There are no separate schools in Australia. Public education is entirely secular, there being no such thing as religious instruction. "The Roman Catholic Church," says Dr. GRANT, "is clamoring for separate schools, and the Presbyterians would be willing to make the concession providing they would be afforded religious instruction in the national schools," which is the only point of marked dissimilarity in the educational affairs of the two countries. Possibly there may be a vast difference in the men administering the respective educational interests, but unfortunately Dr. GRANT does not know JOHN ROBSON, and could not draw a comparison. He further failed to inform us if daily marking obtains in the antipodean province, but that is a matter of detail, like the loose Robsonian system of holding examinations, which would not detract from the striking similarity which exists in more essential points.

HOTEL CLERKS ON CHURCH-GOING.

Bearing in mind the very many excellent sermons which are preached every Sunday throughout the length and breadth of the United States and Canada—perfect intellectual treats one may say—it is astonishing how little influence they exert if the evidence of city hotel clerks is worth anything. "Which is the nearest church?" "Where will I hear the best music?" and "Who is the best preacher?" are the leading questions asked. Women, it is said, are usually more anxious than men to learn the characteristics of the preacher. "Is he flowery?" "Is he sensational?" "Is he old or new style?" they inquire. But the absorbing question with the sex, say the clerks, is which is the most fashionable church, and they make their choice of attendance on that ground alone. One lady had the frankness to say that she wanted to go to the church where she would be liable to see the greatest number of fashionable bonnets and gowns. Well might SOLOMON exclaim that all is vanity. If after all the advantages of a first-class education, by which the intellect is supposed to be fitted for the reception of ideas, sensationalism, music, bonnets and gowns are the leading features of interest to feminine church-goers, we do not wonder that ministers frequently become discouraged and sometimes lapse into a condition which the newspapers describe as "another good man gone wrong." Under such circumstances as these, circumstances alas but too common, it can scarcely be a subject for wonder that church-going furnishes food for scoffers.

RUSSIA AND REFORM.

Since the recent attempt on the Czar's life, the police have sharpened their scent, to the effect that societies are found to exist not alone in Russia, but throughout the entire continent of Europe, and all intent on a common purpose, reform in Russia or the assassination of the Emperor. Any one who has taken the trouble to read GEO. KENNAN's experience in Russia and Siberia, as related in the Century Magazine, cannot fail to conclude that unless the CZAR submits to substantial reforms, and that quickly, he is doomed to follow the fate of his father. Bureaucracy, police espionage, and pecuniary extortions according to KENNAN, are practical to an atrocious extent and the marvel is that Emperors are not assassinated as fast as they can be crowned. It had been our opinion previous to the publication of KENNAN's Russo-Siberian experiences, that the condition of society in Russia was too crude to admit of the radical reforms demanded by the Nihilists. Nor have we changed our mind, but we do believe that the condition may be so ameliorated as to materially reduce the propensity to use dynamite for argument, and that, too without seriously compromising Imperial authority. It is idle to suppose that Russia can at once be turned into a republic, or for that matter into a limited monarchy after the model of England. Reforms may be instituted, however, not radical in the sense that we would look at them, but sufficiently removed from the iron policy of the existing regime to satisfy the Russians. Among a certain class in Russia a condition of exasperation has been reached which cannot be allayed short of the sweeping away of all old political landmarks. These reformers are filled with the iconoclastic rage of the French Revolution. A change so radical as contemplated by these men in a state like Russia would do more harm than good, and a common sense of danger would invite the interference of outside nations. But while the Czar is justified in remorselessly crushing radicalism, which would eventuate in anarchy, probably, it is equally true that he must make some important concessions. Failing in this it is pretty certain that before long he will go the way of his predecessor, namely, by the hand of the assassin.

LEGISLATIVE TENURE.

Somebody has remarked that the Canadian Constitution, framed in 1867, took into account the defects of the American Constitution and avoided them, with the advantage that the constitution of the former now combines "the federal principle and the system of parliamentary and responsible government." No system of human policy is perfect. Devise as perfect a political system as may be, and it will be found inadequate to meet the exigencies inseparable from the wants of society which are constantly arising. In discussing Canadian versus the American systems of government, it is no part of our programme to undertake the defence of the political methods employed by the latter, but it must strike anyone who has watched the operations of "responsible government" in England and the colonies that it is adapted only for peculiarly honorable and patriotic men. In the United States it is not possible for Congressmen to misrepresent their constituents for a longer period than two years, whereas in England it may be done for the period of seven years, and in Canada for five years. SALISBURY's is a responsible government. He holds the Premiership by virtue of a majority in Parliament, and though public opinion may differ from him so long as he is sustained by Parliament he can carry on his policy during the constitutional tenure of parliamentary sitting. It is supposed, of course, that the opinions of members of Parliament will change to correspond with those of their constituents, but that such does not always happen is perfectly clear from the attitude of the masses to-day in England on the Irish question. There is scarcely a doubt but that if SALISBURY went to the country to-day his policy would be defeated. SALISBURY, however, does not propose to go to the country. Like General GRANT before Richmond he proposes to "fight it out on this line if it takes all summer." But we need not go to England to show how the principle and practice of "responsible government" may be abused. In the case of our local House, Mr. BEAVEN sprung on the Government an instance of unconstitutional practice which must have resulted in their resignation only that the committees affected stultified themselves. Endorsement of the government under such circumstances was a flagrant disregard of the principle of "responsible government," and if it may be practiced in one instance it is susceptible of practice in an infinity of instances, and on questions directly opposed to the will of the people. It will be seen, therefore, that whatever may be the defects of the American parliamentary system two years is long enough for a legislator to hold his job. If he is an incompetent person it is discovered by that time, and besides the short tenure of legislative office precludes the organization of cabals and other methods of manipulating legislative bodies in the interest of one man power. That the Canadians adopted five years as the tenure of legislative office was a compromise between the English and the American systems, and in fact a tacit recognition of the wisdom of short legislative terms. It is not pleasant to reflect that a body of men chosen by the people may, if they choose, legislate in defiance of public opinion for a longer space than two years, and we venture to say that before another decade parliamentary tenures in Canada will more closely approximate the period of congressional tenure now in practice in the United States.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The annexed paragraph is from a recently published work on Hawaii: "Kalaupapa, the leper village, may safely be pronounced one of the most horrible spots on all the earth; a home of hideous disease and slow-coming death, with which science, in despair, has ceased to grapple; a community of doomed beings, socially dead, whose only business is to perish; witless husbands, husbandless wives; children without parents and parents without children; men and women who have no more a portion in anything that is done under the sun; condemned to watch the repulsive steps by which each of their doomed fellows goes down to a loathsome death, knowing that by the same way they, too, must soon go." *

MR. BARNARD, M. P.

In another column a letter is published from Mr. FRANK BARNARD, M. P. It is intended by the writer, first, as a homily on how to run a newspaper, second as a defence of the National Policy, third as a vindication of the life and conduct of Mr. FRANK BARNARD, M. P. in parliament. The task was a great one and one could therefore wish that so courageous an effort had succeeded better. In respect to the first count in the indictment, it is clear that editors will have to rely on information, acquired by experience in the newspaper business, till Mr. BARNARD recognizes the existence and utility of telegraph lines. He does not understand how THE TIMES could discuss what he had said in Parliament till the mails had reached Victoria "six days afterwards," which we suppose would be fairly good time between this city and Ottawa for a stage coach. Speaking of the coach as a mail carrier, reminds one of the splendid services rendered to the world by stage lines, which in these days have added to their utility by becoming factors in in election contests. But that is no reason why the telegraph should be ignored even by their most earnest advocate. Although we take it that Mr. BARNARD intended his letter should constitute a defence of the National Policy, a short experience at Ottawa has enabled him to make his language sufficiently ambiguous to leave the reader in considerable doubt. He condemns THE TIMES for "conveying the impression that he made a speech in favor of the National Policy," and admits a little further on that "he is a firm believer in the National Policy for the Dominion as a whole." Mr. BARNARD's is an explanation that does not explain. We should like the writer to define his position a little more clearly on this high tariff question as affecting British Columbia. We do not take much stock in this argument about "the Dominion a whole." If we remember aright it was "the Dominion as whole" that induced Mr. MARA to oppose the motion of Mr. DAVIES to have the China-Japan steamers call at Victoria. It was possibly the same broad view that prevented Mr. BARNARD from saying anything, when he might have rendered a great service to a portion of the province he is supposed to represent and in which his interests are centered. The duty of representatives is to this province first and no amount of twaddle about "the Dominion as a whole" will relieve them from it. It is quite useless for Mr. BARNARD or anyone else to argue that the admission of mining machinery duty free is consistent with the high tariff policy of the present Government, no more than the admission of lumber machinery, or agricultural machinery or any other machinery would be consistent with it. The policy for British Columbia is the policy that will make the development of its resources easier. The admission of machinery and supplies will do that. So far from the National Policy doing anything to assist the growth of the province, it is a means simply of drawing an immense revenue from it and from this city in particular, with no corresponding return. This must be manifest to everyone excepting to Mr. BARNARD, who has yet much to learn.

Wiman's Latest Invention.

The interest felt here in cheap fuel is intensified by the experiments now going on in Pittsburg, at the establishment of Morehead & Ives, by which pulverized coal is brought into actual competition by the process controlled by Erastus Wiman, of New York. It has been running for a week at these works with remarkable results. It is claimed that 4500 lbs. of iron was drawn in an hour with a charge of 760 lbs. of coal, which is alleged to be the cheapest run ever made, because the refuse coal which is used costs less than 50 cents per ton. A public test is to be made on the 24th inst., Mr. Wiman is to be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce in the afternoon, having been invited to address the members at their regular meeting, the subject being "A Commerce that Should be Continental."

AYER'S PILLS.

Sugar-Coated Cathartic

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Dewasville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va. ||

ROYAL HOSPITAL PROPERTY

FOR SALE BY TENDER.

PURSUANT TO AN ACT PASSED AT THE last session of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia, entitled "An Act to authorize and facilitate the sale of the site of the Royal Hospital, with the buildings thereon," the Directors of the Royal Hospital invite sealed tenders for the purchase of so much of the lots known and numbered on the official map of Spring Ridge as Sections 24, 25, 26 and 27 Spring Ridge in the City of Victoria, as is authorized by the said Act to be sold, being the present site of the Royal Hospital, with all improvements thereon, and containing five acres, more or less.

Tenders must be accompanied by a certified bank cheque for one thousand dollars; the balance of purchase money which shall be payable as may be agreed on, shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, and shall be secured in a manner satisfactory to the Directors.

For Plan of Property and further particulars apply to J. Stuart Yates, Hon. Secretary, to whom, the tenders marked "Hospital Site Tender," must be addressed and sent in on or before 12 o'clock noon on the 21st day of June, 1889.

AS TO THE ANARCHISTS.

Portraits Sketched at Hronek's Trial—The Famous Tableaux.

There is beginning to be a good deal of talk again by the Anarchists. The recent trial of Hronek, the Chicago Bohemian who manufactured bombs, storing dynamite around his premises as other men would store brown sugar, his conviction and sentence to twelve years' imprisonment, and the recent tableaux are responsible, however, for only a portion of the present interest in the matter, for the Chicago police authorities have announced that another Anarchist outbreak is imminent, and are advising people everywhere, especially in Chicago, to get ready for it.

It will be remembered that these same authorities sent out similar warnings just before the Haymarket riot. They were not heeded then, nor do they seem to be heeded now. No one outside of Anarchistic and police circles can tell whether there is now the same occasion to heed the warning.

THE TABLEAUX.

With this are portraits of Hronek, the informer Chleboun, and several of the officers who were instrumental in Hronek's capture, together with sketches of the sensational tableaux shown at a meeting of Anarchists in one of the suburbs of Chicago not long ago. It will be remembered that at the entertainment [where these tableaux were given the American flag was trampled under foot and the red flag floated proudly above it. There were effigies of justice being hung upon gallows, and other strictly Anarchistic representations exhibited.

BOTH DEAD NOW.

Speaking of King, of New Haven, and Donovan, His Slayer.

The double tragedy which took place in New Haven on the evening of Thanksgiving day was one of the worst that has ever taken place in that city. John King, a young law student, was shot and killed by a young man named George Donovan. It was evidently a case of jealousy, but the exact motive for the crime is not known. Donovan had a large amatory correspondence, and kept a singular set of books which detailed the state of his loves, and it is thought that King may have stood in his way. He met King on Thanksgiving and deliberately killed him. Then he ran and secreted himself in a barn, where he remained for four or five hours, and then, evidently seized with the idea that the officers of the law were in hot pursuit of him, he ran to the city reservoir and, depositing his overcoat and pistol on the brink, he jumped in. The police found his coat by the reservoir, but they thought that he merely left it there as a "blind" to aid him in his escape. The water was drawn from the reservoir and his body was found to the surprise of everybody. It was evident that he had made a desperate struggle for life when he found himself drowning.

J. S. KING. GEORGE DONOVAN.

Beyond laziness and all around uselessness nobody ever supposed Donovan to be other than a decent enough young man. He was born near Brighton, England, twenty-one years ago, of Irish parents. He had been in this country eleven years.

So There, Now!

The announcements in the press of Mrs. Amelie Rives-Chanler's latest story, "My Lady Tongue," have elicited the following letter from her to Mr. Collier, the proprietor of Once a Week, in which the story is to be published:

CASTLE HILL, CODBAN, Albemarle Co., Va., 19th November, 1888.

MY DEAR MR. COLLIER—I am very much annoyed to see that the papers have attributed to me erroneous reports regarding "My Lady Tongue" which I have never, never given utterance to, but have never felt.

Judith is one of my favorite characters, a girl who, with all her faults, is as you say, a girl after my own heart.

The story of my saying that she was a "shrew" and altogether an uninteresting person is as absolutely false as that I wear—what do they call them—"digitated boots," tie my hair under my chin, and appear at theatres in large hats ornamented with lilac plumes. Really, if it were not all so idiotic, one might be tempted to get indignant.

I very rarely see any newspapers, and never take any notice of their fabrications in regard to myself, but in this instance I will be much indebted to you if you will deny this ridiculous charge on my authority. Believe me, yours very sincerely, AMELIE RIVES.

Not Doing Her Duty.

"Absalom," said Mrs. Rambo, as her erratic husband came home late at night again, "what a terrible, terrible example you are setting the children." "Nancy," he exclaimed in a tone of stern rebuke, "if you don't keep th' children out o' the reach of my 'rample when I come thish way all thic tired out, you're not doing your duty to 'em as a mother, Nancy—thoselll"—Exchange.

THE CALGARY COUNCIL.

The Lines of Discussion—A Subject Anything but Dry.

The following is a summary of the proceedings of a meeting of the Calgary city council, held on the 13th instant, the clerk being instruced to furnish it to Donald Truth only:

On the roll being called Councillors Fitzgerald, Orr, Murdoch, Bannerman, King, Grant, and Mayor Marsh answered "present." After disposing of some unimportant routine business the Mayor announced that the report of the license committee on saloons was up for consideration. It was ordered read, as follows: "License for keeping a public house of entertainment, $100."

Councillor Fitzgerald gave it as his opinion that the two parties who kept upstairs resorts, always under lock and key, and who would not allow even a city councillor within unless accompanied by one of Calgary's nobility, the owners claiming that they did not think the rabble needed stimulants, should be made pay a license for their privacy.

Councillor and ex-Mayor Orr said, in effect, "I am so busy advertising myself in the Herald as the great and only originator of all measures with which I have nothing to do, I regret I cannot father this. I will, therefore, reserve my opinion until the next issue of the Herald, of which I am associate editor."

Councillor Bannerman: "I say make the drug stores pay, as they sell more and poorer liquor than all the other places of entertainment in the city put together." (Applause.)

Councillor and ex-Mayor King: "I should say that if these two resorts refuse to admit the public to their bar that they be compelled to take out a license. If they will not, let us prosecute them under the Liquor Act, and get our share as prosecutors. If we cannot get in in one way, let us get in in another."

Councillor and ex-Mayor Murdoch: "I would be very sorry to see this body descend so low as to become an informer. We have been well rid of all such lately."

Councillor Grant: "As I understand it, these two resorts are willing to pay if the druggists are compelled to do the same. Therefore, I move that the matter be referred back to the license committee."

The motion was carried.

[The average reader may not catch on as to how the council gets its authority to license saloons, when to prevent the carrying on of such business enterprises costs the Dominion of Canada a round million dollars yearly in supporting that vigilant whisky spilling organization, the Northwest Mounted Police. The average reader is therefore informed that the Calgary councilmen have no such power; it is simply a little squeezing scheme they have on the side to make saloon-keepers ante.]—Donald Truth.

ROBSON AND ALBERNI.

The Provincial Secretary's Missionary Tour Petered Out.

From our own Correspondent.]

The intended political visit of the Provincial Secretary to Alberni was quite unnoticed by the public, who probably cared little whether he was going to Alberni or going to the ——. As it is quite possible that the Provincial Secretary, together with his colleagues will in the ordinary course of their existence attain the distinction of having an introduction to this mystical personage, it would be uncharitable as well as a great loss to Alberni for any member of the government to have a too hasty introduction before they have had the opportunity of addressing the Alberni public on the all important question of subsidizing the Great Eastern or Etruria to perform a steamboat service. That the Provincial Secretary intended a visit, the following speaks for itself: On Sunday, May 15th, the settlement was thrown into a state of excitement by the appearance of a special messenger, who was loaded down with an enormous package of posters announcing the sailing of the Barbara Boscowitz on the following Friday. (Skeptical minded persons like the writer came to the conclusion that this was a little more political soft soap.) The messenger was also the bearer of several letters, one of which intimated that the Provincial Secretary was coming to Alberni on the Boscowitz, and that a public meeting was to be held on the all important question of subsidizing the Great Eastern or other big boat, and that the honorable gentleman would express his views on the subject. In due course the Boscowitz arrived but not a vestige or shadow of the Provincial Secretary was to be seen. With the usual amount of forethought this proposed visit was a leap in the dark, and when dawn broke the Provincial Secretary discovered that he had landed foul and shuffled out with as little grace as possible. Several of the settlers put in an appearance at the steamboat landing on Monday morning expecting a great treat from the Provincial Secretary (suggestions of "Tom and Jerry"). And when they became aware that they had been "sold" they threatened to bring an action against the honorable gentleman to recover four bits a piece, the amount of shoe leather they had worn out trudging to this political fizzle. Towards the afternoon a small meeting was held by some of the hard and fast supporters of our good government, and it was intimated that the Provincial Secretary was very sorry that he was unable to keep his appointment, and held out a suggestion that a subsidized service of nine trips per annum would meet the needs of the settlement. This was thought too liberal by this select meeting, and it was carried with an amount of forethought and acumen, that six trips per annum would meet the wants of the settlement. The writer would suggest that two trips a year would suit these individuals; however, this is a matter of opinion. Thanks to the natural resources of Alberni, probably within twelve months the people will be independent of the government with their much vaunted and useless subsidizing of steamboats. We had a much better service before any subsidizing was thought of.

As the government seem to be hard up for a few electioneering novelties, the following is thrown out gratis. It is something quite new and sure to take: The next time the Provincial Secretary, or any member of the government, contemplate visiting Alberni with the intention of subsidizing a big steamboat they should secure the services of a brass band to proceed overland by Nanaimo and Englishman's River, and to secure for each musician a "donkey"—not a biped, I mean a quadruped—and for each musician to ride with his back to the head of the ass (quadruped again). This would have the advantage of giving to each animal an equal division of parts.

Those fortunate enough to meet the advancing cavalcade would observe the herd of a donkey with a human back, and those gazing after them would see the head of the donkey—no, no—I am getting mixed—I mean the head of the musician with the tail of the ass, and it might be so arranged that the tail of the donkey (quadruped again) might wag to keep time to the martial strains of the instruments; and if it were possible to arrange the arrival in Alberni of the donkey and the steamboat, with a liberal discharge of firecrackers and political squibs, the aboriginals might be scared into the belief that a gunboat had arrived to bombard the wicked opportunities and I. C. U.

"The Look Out," May 20, 1889.

Mr. Depew—there is only one, and we need not mention his front name—made a speech at Yale yesterday, in which he explained that the reason why the class of 1853 was so famous was that "one-half of its members went into journalism and praised the other half. That explains why "the other half" became famous, but does he not see how it reflects upon it to have it said that it succeeded for fame upon puffs, while the journalistic half has won its fame by brains.

$350 Undershirt.

Persons of wealth have an undoubted right to spend their money as they chose, but the poor reporter who has to content himself with a suit of underclothing costing two dollars, and who is willed from the variety of his contacts with the world somewhat given to wearing stands agape at a suit of underclothing costing $350, and down in the depths of his inner consciousness, feels that the money might be better spent. Three hundred and fifty dollars is a right smart sum of money. It takes the average reporter a long time to earn as much, and what is all the more irritating he is painfully cognisant that though he may rise above his "wretched" condition to the dignity of an editor, the salary thereto attached will not permit him to wear next his cuticle such costly attire. However, there is no use of repining over the small profits of reporting and editing or moralizing over the extravagant prices people will pay for undershirts. The inequalities of civilization are inevitable, and, with all their drawbacks, are preferable to that one time condition of society when an undershirt was represented by fig leaves, or at the best a sheep skin.

The "Arizona Kicker."

From the Detroit Free Press.]

CAN'T DO IT.—We have been offered $25 in cash and a barrel of wild plum vinegar to publish the record of the man who runs the weekly further down the street. While there is no doubt in our mind that he is a bigamist, horse-thief, barn-burner and Anarchist sympathizer, we know what belongs to decency, and we positively refuse the bribe.

There is too much mud throwing among the editors of the West anyhow. They seem to have forgotten what is due to the position. If one of our doctor's kills a patient by some mistake the rest are always ready to swear him clear. If one of the editorial fraternity makes a trip the rest are eager to pitch into him. It shouldn't be so. There should be more of the fraternal spirit—more of the pride of profession. Therefore, while we are perfectly satisfied that the bald-headed, bow-legged, squint-eyed old coyote who calls himself the editor of the moribund dishrag eleven doors below ought to be in State Prison for life, we are not going to forget what belongs to the amenities of editorial life.

Talmage and the Reporters

Brooklyn's reporters swear by the Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, because he is always ready to smooth their ways for them. The reverend gentleman has a telephone in his house, and when the reporters, who know of this, ring him up and ask him questions, they invariably get courteous and satisfactory replies. So it isn't safe to malign Brooklyn's demonstrative pulpit orator to a Brooklyn newspaper man. Not long since one of the craft called on the Doctor on a matter of news, and was informed by the servant who answered the door that her master was busy and would see no one. "But I must see him," insisted the reporter, and so earnest was his manner that finally the reluctant girl consented to invade the Doctor's sanctum with the visitor's message. As the reporter waited in the hall, the dulcet twang of a distant banjo smote upon his ear. He listened well pleased, for the instrument was apparently handled by one to the manner born. A moment later a door to the right opened, and Talmage himself appeared upon the threshold, with a banjo under his arm. "Come in, come in," cried the preacher heartily; "of course I'll see you. I was just playing my banjo. Sit down and let me play you something." And he took the profane instrument over his knee and played a show piece for the reporter's benefit.

The Behring Sea Outrage.

The eastern press is restive and dissatisfied over the delay and apparent indifference to the claims of the sealers who lost their vessels in Behring sea. The Winnipeg Free Press says: The few yearning Imperial Federationists in Canada do not find much encouragement in England's indifference over the Behring sea dispute. Or perhaps it is intended to force it on, who knows? It is three years now since British Columbia vessels were seized, and their crews fined and sent home penniless for fishing in a sea that all the world looked upon as common property; yet England has done nothing to enforce redress. It is twenty-six years since Canada suffered considerable loss on England's account by that Fenian invasion, and nothing was done in that, either.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

TAKES RISKS ON THE CASH OR MUTUAL PLANS.

As this is a Home Company, organized by British Columbians for the two-fold purpose of giving cheap insurance and keeping the money in this Province, it commends itself to the support of every insurer desiring the prosperity of this country.

In Ontario, the system of insurance, which is similar to that adopted by this Company, has been in highly successful operation for the past fifty years, and it has proved to be a great advantage to every insurer in it, by reducing the cost of insurance, and it is estimated that now three-fourths of the insurance effected in Ontario is carried by mutual companies.

—"Ligneomur," the latest and most artistic wall decoration, at John Weiler's, 51 to 55 Fort street.

—The unbecoming actions of certain young men in the vicinity of Church Hill is spoken of as insulting.

—The Islander has resumed her trips to Vancouver and the Princess Louise will be laid off for a while.

—An organ has been imported from the east for the Bishop of Caledonia's congregation at Fort Simpson.

—There will no doubt be a crowded house at the Victoria to hear Mr. Bolton this evening as there was last.

—June issue, British Columbian Magazine, is at bookstores and Daily's Bazaar. Everyone should buy this handsome number. 1mo.

—The dramatic club of H. M. S. Swiftsure presented the English drama "Ben Bolt" at Temperance Hall, Esquimalt, last evening.

—About sixty tourists bound for Alaska on the Elder took carriages at the outer wharf this morning and drove through the city.

—Visitors before leaving for home should have their photos taken at Hall & Lowe's, Government street, where they are sure to get the best.

—Robert Turnbull, late mate of the Princess Louise, who was stabbed a few nights ago, is progressing favorably and will be around in a few days.

—To-day, May 30th, is Decoration Day, and is observed throughout the United States as a holiday. The principal feature is decorating graves with flowers.

—A marble slab and cross, to mark the resting place of the late Jas. Vesey, surgeon of H. M. S. Amphion, is being prepared by Mr. Jas. Fisher, marble cutter.

—Two charges of fast driving over Point Ellice bridge were disposed of in the Provincial Court this morning. The defendants paid a fine of $2 50 each and costs.

—Several anonymous communications were thrown into the fire to-day. Love's labor lost because the writers were afraid to trust the editor with their names.

—Peop's should not forget the oratorio "Ye Soldiers of the Cross," to be given in Reformed Episcopal Church this evening. Mr. F. H. Warlock is conductor and Mrs. Leach organist.

—A carload of Antique Oak Bedroom furniture, latest designs, handsomely carved, also Walnut Roll Curtain and other office desks, just received by John Weiler 51 to 55 Fort street.

—The Oriel drain pipe is worrying the Seattle city council at present. Mr. Chas. Gabriel desires to sell that city the plant for $25,000, but under their charter they have no money for this purpose.

—THE LATEST STYLES AND THE LOWEST PRICES—Just received at the Albion House sun shades, gloves, vellings, belts, shawls, dress goods, prints, art muslins and lace curtains. BROWN & WHITE.

—Prof. Foster and George Shade will meet to-night to arrange a soft glove sparring match. The match is not off as stated although the information that Shade refused to meet the "Professor" was received from the latter.

—The revision of the real estate assessment roll for the city of Nanaimo is nearly completed. The total assessment last year was in round numbers $303,000, but the roll for this year also in round numbers is $392,000, showing an average increase of over 92 per cent.

—The Geo. W. Elder arrived from the Sound at 9:30 this morning and sailed at 3:30 this afternoon for Alaska. She had a goodly number of passengers and about 1000 tons of freight aboard. Mr. J. C. Calbreath and two sons were passengers for Wrangel.

—While Albion Transfield and A. Cassell, of Nanaimo, were out in the vicinity of the Little Mountain they ran across a large black bear, which they shot. His bearship measured seven feet one inch from tip to tip, and when dressed and skinned weighed 320 pounds.

—To-morrow at noon will be sold by public auction at W. R. Clarke's rooms some valuable real estate with a comfortable and first-class residence on it. The property has a frontage of 800 feet on the Saanich Road. The electric tram cars will run out as far as Tolmie's gate.

—A blue jacket belonging to H. M. S. Swiftsure deserted last night. He was awaiting trial by court-martial for deserting some weeks ago. The man was known on the warship under the name of Jem Smith, and is said to be a brother of the noted English pugilist. It is supposed a boat from the shore was used to assist his escape.

—The bibulous editor of the Vancouver World is given to moralizing now and then. Here is his latest: "Says the Victoria TIMES of last Saturday: 'An Indian was taken in charge yesterday near the Gorge and handcuffed for having two bottles of soda water in his pockets.' Alas! poor Lo. What a commentary on our civilization! A few yards away the Mayor and corporation were uncorking champagne and other wines and liquors as fast as nimble hands could put them through wherewith to quench the thirst of the cultured, refined white man. The aborigines could not even indulge in soda water. Such, however, is civilization as presented at the Capital."

Ascension Day.

Services were held in the churches today. At the R. C. pro-Cathedral Low Mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock this morning and High Mass at 10:30 o'clock. This evening a Service of Song will be given at the Reformed Episcopal Church.

Called to the Bar.

H. G. Hall and W. H. Whittaker, barristers and solicitors, were called to the bar this morning in the new law courts. The gentlemen were introduced to His Lordship Justice Crease by M. W. T. Drake, Q. C. They were congratulated by His Lordship and members of the Bar.

For the Asylum.

Officer Campbell will leave for New Westminster to-morrow morning with F. Marks and Henry Mills. The unfortunate man will be placed in the asylum. Mills was one of the crew of the Ship Titanic and was locked up some days ago for safe keeping. A medical examination proved that he was insane and it was decided to send him to New Westminster.

The Refuge.

The Provincial W. C. T. U. Refuge Home, was opened last week. The dedication service, however, will not be held until Friday evening at eight o'clock. Quite a number of persons having expressed a desire to see the Home, a committee of ladies will be present on Friday afternoon from two to five to receive any who are interested in the work.

Prisoner's Speedy Trial.

A man named Franklyn, charged with stealing a silk handkerchief at Cowichan was before the Chief Justice on Wednesday afternoon and decided to be tried by a jury. On his way back to the Provincial gaol, Franklyn came to the conclusion that he would not put the country to the extra expense of summoning the Grand Jury and asked to be tried before a Judge of the Supreme Court. He will be tried in a few days in accordance with the Speedy Trials Act.

Incoming Passengers.

The Mexico sailed from San Francisco this morning with the following passengers for this port: J. H. Gordon, L. Kleiteker, Col. H. A. Clarke, G. Hers, Harry Markwart.

Supreme Court.

Petit jurors are summoned to be in attendance to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock. The trial of the alleged murderer of the Chinese girl will be proceeded with after which the jurymen will be dismissed until the fall assizes.

Protest.

Mr. Edwin Johnson, owner of the sailing yacht "Teal," entered a protest with the Regatta Committee in which it is claimed that the winning yacht, the "Wasp," is over 18 feet in length. A decision will be given a few days.

No Signs.

The steamship Southern California, Capt. Rains, arrived at Nanaimo yesterday from San Pedro via San Francisco. On the way up Captain Rains coasted along in shore in the hope of being able to discover the missing boat of the steamer Alaskan, but saw nothing of it. Heavy fogs were encountered all the way up.

Ashore at Esquimalt.

During the gale last evening the American bark Bowers, which was lying at Esquimalt, awaiting the arrival of material before going into the dry dock for recoppering, dragged her anchors and went ashore at Foster's pier, on the east side of the harbor. The stern is hard aground and at low tide this morning was completely out of the water, but the bow was afloat. She went ashore at high tide, but it is thought she will be got afloat without difficulty. The vessel is in ballast.

Two Slight Mishaps.

The steamers North Pacific and Idaho fouled one another at Seattle on Wednesday morning at an early hour, but no serious damage occurred.

The last thing loaded upon the Elder at Seattle was a new boiler for Calibreath, Grant and Cook's steamer Alaskan. The boiler was lifted aboard the boat with a crane and put down on the hatch. The weight proved too much for the hatch and broke through. Luckily the falls still remained about it, thus saving it from going to the deck below.

Hose Team.

At a meeting, held in Deluge Engine House last evening, the following young men were selected to form the Victoria Hose Company: Chief Deasy, President; F. Hinds, Captain; T. Watson, Trainer; L. G. Burns, Treasurer; Foremen Conlin Liddell and H. McDowell; J. Gardner, G. Ledingham, W. Shewin, G. Moss, D. McDougall, E. B. Irving, E. Whitcomb, G. Smith, W. Deasy, H. Smyth, F. Hunter, J. Lawson, C. Bush, T. Service, J. Simpson, A. Smith, P. LeLivre, T. Farrell, and George Shade. The team will meet this evening for practice.

Go to G. O. Bigger's

For fresh island Strawberries, new supply every day. Strawberries and Cream dished up in the cream parlor. Peaches, Plums and Apricots, first of the season, direct from California. The finest Soda Water in the city. All fruit syrups of every flavor with Boston Cream and Egg Soda, at all times. Nuts, Candies of the best make, fresh all the time. Tobaccos, Cigars and Cigarettes, the best 5c. Cigar in Victoria. Don't forget the place, 86 Government Street, 3 doors south of Post Office, Art Reception Rooms, and Fruit Depot.

Mr. Chipman Arrives.

Mr. Willis Chipman, the sanitary engineer of Toronto, for whom the City Corporation telegraphed to come to Victoria and report upon the desirability of a separate system of sewerage for the city, arrived last night by way of San Francisco and Puget Sound, and was this morning engaged at the City Surveyor's office in inspecting plans of the city. He also drove over a considerable portion of the city last evening with Dr. Milne, who pointed out to him the line of the contemplated outlet sewer, emptying into Ross Bay.

Real Estate Deal.

Messrs. Bewicke & Wulffohn have just consummated a large sale of real estate in Vancouver. The name of the gentleman making the investments is Harvey Hadden, an Englishman. Mr. Wulffohn stated that the amount involved in the sale was close upon $150,000. The individual owners of the property bought by Mr. Hadden were various. The purchase includes lots at the corner of Hastings and Cambie streets, Granville and Hastings, Seymour and Hastings, Granville and Pacific, and inside lots on several streets. Mr. Hadden has gone to England with the intention of returning shortly.

Stealing Socks.

For some time past Alderman Goodacre missed a number of articles from his stables on Broad street. The worthy alderman was passing the place this afternoon when he noticed an Indian roaming around. The native was ordered out of the place and was watched by Mr. Goodacre for some time. The Indian did not appear to worry any more about going back and Mr. Goodacre walked home relating the circumstance to a young man who was met on the street. A few minutes after the young man saw an Indian enter the stables and come out with a bundle under his arm. He was taken to the lock-up and placed in the cells by Officer Lewis on a charge of stealing a number of grain sacks.

Instructive Entertainment.

"London, the Metropolis of the World," was the subject of the lecture given in the Victoria Theatre last evening by Mr. Bolton, a subject to which the people responded with a crowded running over house. Many were indeed unable to obtain admittance and unless they go early to-night they will stand equally as good a chance of getting left again. The price of admittance last evening was cheap, very cheap, considering the character of the entertainment and the place in which it was held. This evening popular prices will again be the rule and it will not be surprising if people crowd in the building till the fire wardens interfere. The performance last evening was a very pretty one as well as instructive. Some of the views were familiar to very many of the spectators who can testify to their accuracy in every particular. This evening will be a trip through Germany and Mr. Bolton promises that it will be amusing, pretty, and instructive. All, young and old, should see it.

Mr. David Little Missing.

Mr. W. Armstrong, who reached Nanaimo last evening from Alberni, states that he reached the bridge which crosses Englishman's river on Tuesday, and there he found the horse upon which Mr. David Little of Alberni started out from the Somerset House for his home on Friday last. The poor animal was tied to the bridge, and had the appearance of having been a prisoner since the previous Sunday, the day on which Mr. Little reached Englishman's River. He (Little) left Mr. Jno. Hirst's on the day of his arrival there. Mr. Armstrong instantly commenced a vigorous search for the missing rider, but we are sorry to say without any result, except that of returning disheartened and tired out, to acquaint Messrs. Jno. Hirst and Craig with the alarming intelligence, who at once started off in quest of the missing man. The mysterious disappearance and the absence of any trace which could lead to the party intent upon roaming or discovering the whereabouts of the poor fellow, makes the result a matter of anxious speculation. The affair has caused a profound sensation throughout the whole settlement. Mr. Little was well and favorably known by all "old hands" both in Nanaimo and also in all the outlying districts.—Courier.

ALDERMANIC BOARD.

Communications—Claims for Injuries—Reports, Etc.

The regular weekly meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held in the City Hall at 8 o'clock last evening. Present: His Worship Mayor Grant, Ald. McKillican, Harrison, Goodacre, Wilson, Vigelius, Kelly, Coughlan, Harris and Harrison.

Minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Pendray & Co., asking that the street sprinkler be permitted to sprinkle Humboldt street, between Government and Douglas streets. Referred to the Street Committee.

From Turner, Beeton & Co., regarding defective drainage at the foot of Yates street. Referred to Sanitary Committee with power to act.

From H. W. Doscher, asking the Board to reduce his water rates. Referred to Water Committee and Water Commissioner.

From T. D. Lindsay, constable, asking to be paid for interpreting "Chinook" in the police court. Referred to Police Committee and Supt. of Police.

From T. Partridge, reporting several parties in arrears for water.

Ald. Styles moved that all parties in arrears be notified that they should pay the rates or the water will be shut off. Notice thereof to be advertised in the city newspapers. Carried.

From H. F. Heisterman, complaining that the fountain at the junction of Government and Douglas streets is allowed to go to ruin. The writer considered that it was a disgrace to allow the valuable property, donated by private citizens, to become overgrown with weeds. Referred to Water Committee.

Ald. Styles considered that something should be done with the fountain. If the matter was referred to the Park Committee it would be attended to properly.

Ald. Harris—You might remove it to Beacon Hill.

Ald. Wilson considered that it was a disgrace to allow the fountain to fall down. It reminded him of a drunken man, every time he looked at it he imagined that the fountain would fall. The property owners in that section deserve recognition for their donation.

Ald. McKillican considered that something should be done to keep the fountain in order. Private citizens donated a large sum towards the placing of the fountain in a position where it would be a convenience and would beautify that section of the city. He hoped the Board would attend to the matter at once.

Ald. Coughlan would like to see a sum donated to put the fountain in order.

Ald. Harris thought the Board should consider that the drains might be choked and it was necessary to economize.

Ald. Harrison wished to see the waste stopped throughout the city where numerous taps are running day and night.

Ald. Kelly wished to work faithfully for every ward in the city. He was elected for the general welfare of the city, and would vote to give Johnson street as much as any other ward.

A communication was read from John Becker asking for a short drain on Discovery street. Referred to Street Committee.

From the City Barristers, enclosing a letter from J. M. Leet, on behalf of L. C. Dougall, regarding a claim for injuries received by falling from a sidewalk. The letter enclosed stated that the party represented would be satisfied with $1000, but would sue for $7000 if the matter was taken into court.

A motion to instruct the City Surveyor to visit the locality where the accident occurred in company with the City Barristers was carried.

J. M. Leet's communication was referred to the City Barristers.

From W. Atkins, regarding a fence destroyed by corporation workmen on Dallas Road, James Bay. Referred to Street Committee.

An account from H. Noble for coal was ordered to be paid if found correct.

A'd. McKillican's motion to notify property owners to remove fences and houses from the street lines within eighteen months was declared carried.

A report from R. B. McMicking, enclosing invoices from the Ball Electric Light Company, was received and submitted to the Electric Light Committee.

Ald. McKillican submitted a notice of motion to amend By-Law No. 104, with reference to the rules of order.

The Board then adjourned.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of Movements of Well Known Persons.

Henry Saunders, E. A. Hart, Capt. McCallum and Capt. McAlister were amongst the arrivals from Vancouver last evening on the steamer Princess Louise.

Hon. Justice Gray was attacked with a sudden illness on Wednesday.

Lyman E. Knapp, the new Governor of Alaska, left for the north on the Geo. W. Elder to-day.

Mr. H. Satow, a commissioner from the Japan Government to study the political systems and customs of foreign countries, is now in the city and stopping at the Driard. He has come from Japan via Australia, and will leave for the east and Europe in a few days.

Capt. Robertson, of Moresby Island, is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. DeWolf are at the Driard.

Mr. J. H. Ogilvie, D.L.S., of Montreal, a brother of Lieut. Ogilvie, of C Battery, is in the city.

The many friends of Mr. Thos. Bradley, of the Nanaimo customs, and now at the Harrison Hot Springs, will be glad to learn that he is much improved in health by his sojourn at this famous sanitarium.

M. J. A. Sheffield, superintendent of the dining car service on the C. P. R., who was shot and nearly killed by an employee some months ago, is in the city, having completely recovered from the wound.

F. H. Osgood, of the Seattle street car line, is in town.

J. Calderwood, formerly connected with Ames, Holden Co, in this city, arrived last evening from the Sound. Mr. Calderwood is now manager for the Oregon Southern Improvement Company, at Coos Bay.

T. J. Forlar, of Moresby Island, is at the Clarence.

Lieut.-Governor Nelson's health has improved since going to Harrison Hot Springs. He is expected to return to the city in a few days.

Mr. Chase of the Cherry Creek Mining Company has returned from Chicago.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Eli Perkins will Speak in the Victoria Theatre.

Eli Perkins (Melville D. Landon) will lecture in the Victoria Theatre on Wednesday evening, June 12th, on the "Philosophy of Wit and Humor." Mr. Perkins is eminently a success as a humorous lecturer and is considered one of the most popular favorites in the United States. He never fails to charm his audiences. His sayings are indescribable. Young Men's Christian Associations praise his high moral tone. His talk is genuine wisdom and almost every instant the audience explodes with laughter. The lecture in this city will be under the auspices of the Young People's Association of St. Andrew's Church.

The Cecilians are Coming.

It is seldom that as strong a company of artists as are in the Cecilian Operatic Company visits the far west. Charles Edward Hamilton, an old opera manager, brings them. They give two well-known operas, "Pretty Galatea," by Von Suppe, the "Faust," the second. Miss Caroline Miltzer, the soprano, is young, very pretty and possesses a remarkable voice. The San Francisco Chronicle says: "Miss Miltzer's performance in the garden scene of "Faust" will long be remembered. Her acting is excellent and her singing of the part could not be improved upon." Late Oregon exchanges are profuse in their praises of the company.
